First Call for Abstracts

May 15th, 2018

TO: Members of the Academy and Science Community

The forty-fifth Annual Fall Scientific Paper Session of the Rochester Academy of Science will be hosted by the State University of New York at Geneseo (SUNY Geneseo) on Saturday, November 10, 2018, from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Oral presentations and poster sessions will begin at 9:30 a.m. The luncheon is at 12:30 p.m. and will be followed by the Larry King Memorial Lecture.

This session provides a forum for Academy members, the collegiate community and others engaged in scientific research to present the results of their investigations in an atmosphere that promotes discussion and interaction. Undergraduate students, graduate students, and faculty members are encouraged to attend and to present posters or oral reports.

You do not have to be a member of the Rochester Academy of Sciences to participate.

The Academy covers the full scope of basic and applied sciences, including but not limited to anthropology, biology, botany, chemistry, computer science, ecology, environmental science, geography, geology, physics, physiology, science education, and zoology.

Presentations may be oral presentations or posters. Posters provide an excellent opportunity for author-audience interaction, and students should consider this mode of presentation, particularly if this will be their first scientific meeting.

Refreshments will be provided throughout the morning. Attendees may purchase a lunch ticket during registration. A map of the SUNY Geneseo campus, luncheon information, and registration details will be included in the second call, which will be distributed at the end of August.
